Treatment 1: Information provision

Did you know, all teachers are required by the Law of Georgia on Elimination of Domestic Violence, Protection and Support of Victims of Domestic Violence to report when they suspect violence against children to school resource officers or another person tasked with this duty if there is no school resource officer?

The person responsible then refers the case to either a social worker, psychologist, or the Ministry of Internal Affairs for further follow up. The state will provide services to victims of domestic violence including shelter.

Treatment 2: Social norming

Did you know, the majority of Georgians think that domestic violence is not a private matter? The vast majority also think that women should not put up with violence to keep their families together according to a United Nations study carried out in 2018.

Treatment 3: Social norming and information provision

Did you know, the majority of Georgians think that domestic violence is not a private matter? The vast majority also think that women should not put up with violence to keep their families together according to a United Nations study carried out in 2018.

| 1.  | I plan to report child abuse when I suspect it                                                                           | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 2.  | I would like to fulfill my professional responsibility by reporting suspected cases of child abuse.                      | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 3.  | Reporting child abuse is necessary for the safety of children.                                                           | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 4.  | I would still report child abuse even if my school administration disagreed with me.                                     | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 5.  | It is important for teachers to be involved in reporting child abuse to prevent long-term consequences for children.     | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 6.  | Child abuse reporting guidelines are necessary for teachers.                                                             | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 7.  | Teachers who report child abuse that is unsubstantiated can get into trouble.                                            | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 8.  | I would find it difficult to report child abuse because it is hard to gather enough evidence.                            | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 9.  | Reporting child abuse can enable services to be made available to children and families.                                 | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 10. | I would be apprehensive to report child abuse for fear of family/community retaliation.                                  | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |
| 11. | I would be reluctant to report a case of child abuse because of what parents will do to the child if he/she is reported. | 1                   | 2        | 3                          | 4     | 5                |

Pledge

37. Below is a pledge to combat domestic violence in your school and community. Signing the pledge is entirely voluntary. If you would like to sign the pledge, please write in your name below the pledge.

I pledge to take action against domestic violence by choosing not to remain silent.

Instead, I will speak up for those in my neighborhood, family, work or school who are victims of abuse.

I will report to the appropriate authorities when I suspect domestic violence in a student's home.

I will create a peaceful and safe environment in my home; and will not raise my hand in violence nor my voice in anger.

By living this pledge, I am joining with others to end violence in my home and community.
