

Factsheet

Caucasus Barometer is an annual survey about socio-economic issues and political attitudes conducted by the Caucasus Research Resource Centers (CRRC) in the three countries of the South Caucasus: Armenia, Azerbaijan, and Georgia. The project started in 2004. Representative nationwide data is available since 2008 (before 2010, the survey was titled The Data Initiative). The 2015, 2017, and 2019 waves of the survey were conducted in Armenia and Georgia only. The 2020 wave was conducted only in Georgia using telephone survey method due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Population: Adults (18 years old and over), excluding the populations living in territories affected by military conflict (South Ossetia and Abkhazia)

Sample Design: Simple random sampling using random-digit-dial method.

Sample Size: 1501 respondents.

Response rate: 14%

Survey mode: Computer-assisted telephone interview (CATI).

Interview languages: Georgian, Armenian, Azerbaijani and Russian.

Fieldwork Dates: December 8, 2020 to December 14, 2020

Results are weighted.